THE PIONEER DAY
PAGEANT

Tonight at the City hall, one hundred and forty-four men will meet with Chairman David O. McKay of the pageant committee, to prepare to represent the first company of pioneers that entered the Salt Lake valley, in the Pioneer Day celebration next Monday. Their attendance was pledged last night to the chairman within a half hour's time, by the bishops of the Mormon wards in the city, and Apostle McKay said this morning that he was sure they would meet him at the time designated, 8 o'clock. This feature of the pageant will be one of the most important, as the men will be costumed according to the fashion of the western emigrants in 1847.

The general committees of the celebration will meet tonight at the City hall at 7 o'clock, to consummate, as nearly as possible, the plans for the big event, which are now well in hand and carpenters, artists and helpers are busily engaged in different parts of the city in building the numerous floats on which the local populace and visitors will feast their eyes, on Monday morning.

Last night, at the meeting of the committee chairman, Miss Oertel Rich, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Rich, was selected to represent "Columbia" and Fred G. Taylor, "Uncle Sam," on the American float, which will head the section of the pageant devoted to "The Coming of the Nations." On motion of D. O. McKay, Mrs. Chris Flygare was chosen to preside at the exercises to be held at Glenwood park.

Mrs. Bertha Eccles, chairman of the committee on the banquet for the pioneers, announced that approximately 500 guests would participate in that feature. The banquet will be held at the Idlewild hotel, to which the pioneers will be taken in special cars of the Ogden, Logan and Idaho Railway company, from Glenwood park, at the conclusion of the morning ceremonies. The menu of the feast includes trout and chicken, and a program of toasts will also be carried out, with D. O. McKay as toastmaster.

The program committee reported that the souvenir programmes to be issued, aside from the detailed information they will contain, will be well worth keeping in remembrance of the celebration. They will be works of art in two colors, orange and black, and among other features will contain eight pictures of pioneer scenes, in silhouette effect.

"Temptation and the Man," at the Oracle today only.

KETCHUM COAL CO.
TO START WORK

L. R. Eccles states that as soon as the litigation is ended in the case of the Ketchum Coal company vs. the Utah Fuel company, the former company will begin operations. The Ketchum mine is controlled by the Eccles estate and has had a competitor in the Utah Fuel company. The latter company is alleged to have tried to secure the property to tie it up so that a rival company could not operate it.

The mine is located in Carbon county and it is planned by the Ogden capitalists to drive a number of new headings and to bring about a development of the property that it may compete with the other mines in the Carbon county district.

"Never Again Eddie," at the Oracle today only.

CENSORED FILMS AT THE ALHAMBRA

The children's matinee at the Alhambra theater tomorrow will be especially attractive and the mothers also are assured a delightful program in the presentation of Dustin Farnum in "Davy Crockett" and Burton Holmes' "Travels in Germany."

The films were censored Thursday morning and adjudged suitable for the children's entertainment.

MISS JENNIE B. CAMPBELL AND RICHARD KASBUS DROWNED

Young Woman 21 and Little Boy 10 Years of Age Go Bathing in Ogden River, Above the Power Dam, and Lose Their Lives—Brother and Sister Witness the Tragedy.

While bathing in the Ogden river about two miles east of the power dam in Ogden canyon yesterday afternoon, Miss Jennie B. Campbell, 21-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Campbell of 3185 Washington avenue, and Richard Kasbus, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Kasbus of 743 Twenty-third street, were drowned. The tragedy occurred about 5:30 o'clock and the bodies were recovered about an hour later by Frank D. Richardson, J.

Jennie Campbell.

F. Mattson and Benjamin Bolt. They were brought to Ogden and taken to the Lindquist mortuary to be prepared for burial.

News of the drowning rapidly spread among the campers at the Pineview, Idlewild and Hermitage resorts and other camps and cast a pall of gloom throughout the canyon, was received in Ogden about 6 o'clock and many persons went to the scene to learn the particulars.

According to the story told by Miss Cora Kasbus, sister of the drowned boy and a witness of the accident, it occurred near one of the islands in the river, west of the Ririe ranch. Miss Campbell and several other girls arrived at the Wilcox resort on the interurban trolley car leaving Ogden at 3:45 o'clock. They were met by Miss Kasbus, her younger sister Effie and brothers, William and Richard. Two boats were procured at the resort and the party started up the river.

They rowed to a point near the head of Stillwater which, Richard Richard Kasbus.

Kasbus said, was the place where they had bathed last year. Grounding the boats at the water's edge, they immediately prepared for a swim. The water appeared to be shallow and Richard Kasbus walked backward into it, talking with Miss Campbell. Suddenly, the boy appeared to lose his footing and, as he disappeared from sight, Miss Campbell, with a cry to the others, plunged forward to save him and she too disappeared from sight. Effie Kasbus, aged 14, in the excitement, had started into the water and but for immediate assistance from her sister and brother William, would have met the same fate as her brother Richard and Miss Campbell. William, who was in the boat, extended an oar to her and she held onto it until Cora, who had entered the water, reached her and helped her into the boat.

The members of the party stood for several minutes watching for Miss Campbell and the young Kasbus boy to reappear above the surface of the water, prepared to give them assistance from the boats, but were horrified as the seconds passed and no sign of them was seen. Realizing the awfulness of the situation, Cora Kasbus sent one of the boats back to the Wilcox resort for assistance. Mr. E. Wilcox, Frank D. Richardson and J. F. Mattson were at the resort when the boat arrived and, knowing that the place in the river where the drowning happened is virtually inaccessible from the road, they procured another boat and with this means soon reached the scene. With a rope tied around his waist, Mr. Richardson dived into the water where the two young people disappeared many times before he could locate the bodies. When finally successful, two rakes were fastened onto long poles and, with these improvised grappling hooks, the bodies were dragged to the surface of the river.

Benjamin Bolt, a fisherman, assisted in recovering the body of the boy and Mr. Mattson brought the body of the girl from the water.

While Richardson, Wilcox and Mattson were speeding up the river in the boat, news of the accident was sent down the canyon from the Wilcox camp and the police department and sheriff's office at Ogden were notified. Chief of Police T. E. Browning, Patrolman C. P. Fitzgerald, Sheriff T. A. DeVine and Deputy Sheriffs J. L. Hobson, Curtis Allison and George Leatham rushed to the scene in automobiles and assisted in the removal of the bodies to the Wilcox resort.

Mr. Richardson, whose diving was responsible for the recovery of the bodies, said the "chuck-off" into which the unfortunate girl and boy had dropped, was about 18 feet deep, and that it had been necessary for him to crawl around upon the river bed for a considerable distance before he could locate them.

Born in Logan, Jenny B. Campbell was born at Logan, July 15, 1895, and came to Ogden with her parents, several years ago, when her father established the J. S. Campbell Wholesale company here. She entered the Weber academy as a student shortly afterward and graduated from that institution of learning two years ago, being one of the popular members of her class. A member of the Mormon church throughout her life time, she was active in the work of that religious body, both in Logan and Ogden, being especially associated with the work of the Mutual Improvement association. Her talents and personality were such that her presence was welcomed in home, church and school social gatherings and her death is a matter of deep sorrow and regret, not only to her relatives, but to many friends in Ogden and Cache Valley. She is survived by her parents and the following brothers and sisters: Mary, Stewart, Dorothy, Lawrence and Harriet Louise Campbell.

Richard Kasbus is a brother of Peter Kasbus, president of the student body of the University of Utah, and his father is one of the city's well-known grocers. He was born in Ogden, August 11, 1905, and was an attendant at the Ogden public schools. Many friends of the little fellow tendered their sympathy to the stricken family today. The surviving members of the family are Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kasbus, the parents, and Peter, Cora, Andrew, Jr., Effie and William, brothers and sisters.

Train Your Hair as an Actress Does

No class of people devotes as much time to beauty as do actresses, and naturally no class must be more careful to retain and develop their charms. Inquiry among them develops the information that in hair care they find it dangerous to shampoo with any makeshift hair cleanser. Instead they have studied to find the finest preparation made for shampooing and bringing out the beauty of the hair. The majority of them say that to enjoy the best hair wash and scalp stimulant that is known, get a package of canthox from your druggist, dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water and your shampoo is ready. It costs less than three cents for this amount. After its use the hair dries rapidly, with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its lustre and softness will also delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.—Advertisement.

LAKE TAHOE OUTING
SOURCE OF MUCH PLEASURE

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Bush have returned from Lake Tahoe, where they enjoyed several days' outing. Mr. Bush is local city ticket agent of the Southern Pacific and the trip was his first to the famed California-Nevada mountain resort.

In speaking of his trip this morning, he said the pleasure derived from a trip on the lake, which is 23 miles long, 14 miles wide and reaches a depth greater than 1800 feet, surpassed his greatest expectations. The Ogden couple visited Rubicon park, Helman's, Pomins', Moana Villa, McKinley's, Homewood, Tahoe Pines, Idlewild and Tahoe. Tavern all of which are stopping points on the lake trip and of special interest to tourists.

The resorts, Mr. Bush says, are being well patronized, especially by east-bound tourists and week-end parties from San Francisco, Sacramento and other California cities. The hotel accommodations are good and at Tahoe tavern and some of the other lake stations dancing, bowling and other amusements are found.

FAKE ADVERTISING IS TO BE KILLED OFF IN OGDEN

The Ogden Publicity Bureau is conducting a campaign against fake advertising that should prove very beneficial and profitable to every member of that organization.

There is not a day in the year that the merchants of Ogden are not bothered with some questionable advertising scheme. The smooth solicitor, who plays his own game first, last and all the time and who moves on to some other green field after he collects, is a tenacious animal. He hangs on like a bull pup to a root and quite often, people who cannot draw the line between selling lingo and business logic, fall easy victims to the advertising sharper. Under the plan of the Publicity Bureau, these victims are given protection against the sharper, and their own bad judgment.

ment. Members of the Bureau refer all outside advertising propositions to the secretary for approval before they invest. It saves them considerable time and annoyance. It raises legitimate advertising to a higher plane and will eventually discourage the horde of fakirs who have been making regular raids on the advertising appropriations of Ogden merchants.

In addition to all this, it will save the members of the Bureau thousands of dollars each year. This one feature alone will save each member much more than the yearly cost of his membership and it relieves them of a very perplexing problem. When the solicitor comes in, the merchant simply hands him a card bearing the following information:

As Members of the
Weber Club Publicity Bureau
We are not at liberty to consider advertising propositions which have not been approved by this bureau, the manager of which may be seen at his office in the Weber Club at 2 p. m.

Unless the proposition is in keeping with recognized legitimate methods of advertising, the solicitor is advised to ply his trade in other fields. The plan is working nicely and has been the means of saving considerable money for Ogden merchants.

Leonard Joseph Waymont, one of the best known young men of Weber county, died suddenly at 4:30 this morning at his home at Warren of hemorrhage. He returned home at 4:30 yesterday afternoon from Belfast, Ireland, where he had been doing missionary work for the Latter-day Saints church. Last May he was taken ill in the mission field with gastritis and, although everything possible was done for him, his strength gradually failed and President Hyrum G. Smith of the European mission deemed it advisable to honorably release him to return home. Accompanied by Elders Ivan Call of Woods Cross and Vernon W. Dean of Salt Lake City, he started the journey home very well and last evening was cheerful and hopeful of a speedy recovery. He talked of his missionary experiences entertainingly
